OUTLINES.

At Utica, New York, last night Secretary Root delivered a campaign speech that was hatched up at the White House; it consisted of scathing denunciation of William Randolph Hearst, who was pilloried as a self-seeking demagogue and responsible for inciting the assassination of President McKinley——Both Hughes and Hearst yesterday reached New York City from the up-State campaign and each made more than a dozen speeches in the metropolis to large and enthusiastic crowds; Hearst's friends are confident of victory and his enemies predict his defeat by 250,000——In Wyoming yesterday a band of 100 Ute Indians captured a wagon loaded with 3,000 pounds of flour and supplies intended for the soldiers in pursuit of them. Chief White Bull of the Sioux tribe, is making his way to the Utes to urge them not to fight——In the south of France yesterday a terrific snow storm and tidal wave wrecked numbers of vessels, destroyed houses and probably many lives——Gerschunin, head of the fighting forces of the Russian terrorists, has escaped from Siberia, concealed in a water cask——The inquest into the awful accident at the Thoroughfare bridge, Atlantic City, N. J., began yesterday and while there was no conclusion, the evidence tended to show that the draw was the cause of the catastrophe which resulted in the loss of 60 lives.——Count Boni de Castellane was dumfounded by the terrible arraignment of the countess' counsel in the divorce case at Paris, as he was clinging to the hope that a reconciliation would be effected; he now threatens to demand examination of witnesses which would drag the name of some high women into courts——New York markets; money on call strong and higher three to nine per cent., ruling rate 6; last loan 3; spot cotton 10 points lower, closing quiet at 10.40; flour firm; wheat firmer, No. 2, red 82 7-8 elevator; corn mixed 38; turpentine firm 69 3-4 to 70 1-4; rosin firm.

Vote next Tuesday for Hanibal L. Godwin for Congress. He is a Democrat in sympathy with the white people born in North Carolina.

Republicans say they are proud of President Roosevelt because "he does things." The difference between him and the Republican party is that it does the people.

Senator Beveridge of Indiana, has joined the hue and cry for the limit of private fortunes. We regret to say that we have no reason to be personally perturbed over a proposition like that.

The friends of Hughes in New York are mad because Hearst called him "an animated feather duster." We We should think that it would take something like that to clean up Hearst.

The Root-Roosevelt speech in Utica, N. Y., last night declared that "many workingmen are about to strengthen the enemies and weaken the friends of popular government all over the world by voting for Mr. Hearst." That is putting Hearst in the same class with the Republican party.

If you are a consumer it is natural to suppose that in next Tuesday's election you will not vote for a Republican who stands pat on taxing the consumer for the benefit of the privileged class for whose benefit the Republican party levies a burdensome tariff tax.

Vote for Hanibal L. Godwin for Congress next Tuesday if you want to place yourself on record for such reduction of the tariff as will relieve the masses instead of perpetuating a tax on them for the further enrichment of the trusts and privileged class for whom the Republican party stands pat.

New York papers have been poking it to Hearst because he has been calling Hughes ugly names. What will those papers say of the speech of Secretary Root who spoke at Utica last night as the mouthpiece of President Roosevelt, bitterly denouncing Hearst? The Root-Roosevelt speech at Utica published in The Star this morning, rankles with vituperation. As a sample of scathing denunciation it takes the cake.

IN DISTRICT COURT

Several Cases of Importance Taken Up Yesterday Before Judge Purnell

TRIAL OF CAPT. McLEAN

Government Testimony About All In—Mistrial in Charge Against McN. Ray, of Cumberland—Two For Atlanta Prison—True Bills.

Although the session of the United States District Court lasted only a little more than four hours yesterday, from 9:30 A. M. until 12 o'clock in the afternoon, several important cases were called up and at least partially disposed of. The sealed verdict in the case of D. McN. Ray, of Cumberland county, was delivered and a mistrial was ordered; judgment was passed upon G. A. Raynor, of Cumberland, convicted Wednesday, and G. W. Hall, of Cumberland, convicted yesterday, each being sentenced to one year and a day in the Atlanta prison, and to pay a fine of $100 and costs, and the case of Capt. Lauchlin McLean, master of the British steamer Osceola, charged with unlawfully detaining United States marines aboard his ship, was entered upon. The latter case will probably require all of to-day and perhaps a part of to-morrow to complete. The first week will end at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon and Judge Purnell has signified his purpose to take a recess of the court at that time until Thursday of the following week. This will allow visitors at the court to be at home on election day and to return in time for the taking up of the docket again.

The chief interest yesterday morning centered about the sealed verdict in the case of Mr. Ray of Cumberland county, a man of some prominence, charged with being implicated in the illicit traffic in liquor upon large land holdings of his near Fayetteville. The verdict returned was to the effect that Mr. Ray had knowledge of an illicit distillery on his place, but they refused to place the ownership upon him as was charged in the bill of indictment, whereupon a mistrial was ordered and the case was continued until the next term, defendant being required to give $500 bond. Mr. Samuel H. McRae, of Fayetteville, counsel for the defendant, noted an exception to this disposition of the case and an appeal will probably be taken.

George A. Raynor, of Cumberland, was convicted of retailing and distilling, on Wednesday and was sentenced yesterday to one year and a day in the Atlanta prison and to pay a fine of $100 and costs.

S. W. Hall, and aged White man of Cumberland, who from his repeated appearance in the Federal Courts, seems to be a confirmed moonshiner, was found guilty of retailing and distilling and was sentenced to one year and a day in the Atlanta prison, and to pay $100 fine and costs.

J. P. Thompson, of Bladen, pleaded guilty to retailing and was given six months in Bladen jail and required to pay a fine of $100 and costs.

Frank McArthur, of Cumberland, charged with retailing, pleaded guilty and was given three months in jail and required to pay a fine of $100 and costs.

The case of Capt. Lauchlin McLean was taken up just before noon and only a few witnesses had been examined when court took a recess for the day. The defendant is represented by Messrs. Rountree and Carr and Bellamy and Bellamy. The testimony heard yesterday was all in behalf of the government, the star witnesses having been Byrnes and Flynn, the sailors alleged to have been unlawfully detained aboard Capt. McLean's ship. They told practically the same story as has been given in these columns in connection with the preliminary trial. Four other seamen from the Osceola testified in the same behalf. Other witnesses for the government were Policeman W. G. Brinkley, who arrested the men for desertion from the Osceola and Deputy Collector of Customs T. L. Vines, to whom the men reported that they were members of the crew of the United States Cruiser Columbia and were shanghaied at Newport News. Both Byrnes and Flynn were confronted with the British Vice Consul at Newport News and Mr. J. E. Bradley, a boarding master at the port. Both men denied ever having seen the men before though Byrnes admitted that Bradley had brought him a suit of clothes to the ship and he had signed for them. The government practically concluded its case with a certified copy of the enlistment of the men in the United States navy.

The defence will begin the introduction of its testimony to-day at 9:30 A. M. when British Vice Consul Haughton, of Newport News, and the boarding master will testify that the men were regularly shipped under assumed names and that they were perfectly sober and in possession of all their faculties when they signed the ship's papers in the presence of the consul.

The jury as finally empanelled, is composed of 11 white and one colored man, Harry Covington, a rather elderly citizen of Richmond county. On account of the wide discussion of the case on the streets and the importance of it, Judge Purnell ordered the Marshall to keep the jury to-gether at a good hotel until the trial is over. The presence of the colored man on the jury would have presented difficulties to any other than men of the genius of Marshall Claude Dockery and Manager Joe Hinton of The Orton. "Uncle Henry" is a respectable colored man of the old school and it was arranged for him to occupy servants' quarters at the hotel and to take his meals with the "aristocrats" of the head waiter in The Orton dining room.

The jury is composed as follows: S. C. Scales, E. R. Bailey, E. B. Sutton, Giles W. Westbrook, Isaiah Carroll, J. T. Dawkins, J. G. Terry, A. M. Watson, J. T. Kennedy, T. J. Newsom, N. Hammond and Harry Covington, colored.

True bills were returned by the grand jury yesterday as follows: Dan Buie, Robeson county, retailing; Fred McQueen, Robeson county, retailing; Dave McLean, Robeson, retailing; Jim Fairley, Robeson, retailing; Mary Belle Oxendine, Robeson, retailing; Mary Jane Oxendine, Robeson, retailing; Lovett Locklear, Robeson, retailing; Chesley Locklear, Robeson, retailing; Jim McNeill, Scotland, retailing; Henry Cromartie, New Hanover, mutinous conduct on steamer Johnson. Not a true bill was found against Emma Thompson, Robeson, charged with retailing.

DEMOCRATIC RALLY

Open Air Meetings in First and Fifth Wards To-night—Speeches by Godwin, Sinclair, Cook, Morton and Others—Band Engaged.

All arrangements have been perfected for the big Democratic rally to be held in the city to-night with the centres of activity in the First and Fifth wards. The speakers will be Hon. H. L. Godwin, Democratic nominee for Congress in this district; Hon. N. A. Sinclair, Democratic nominee for Solicitor in the Seventh Judicial district; Hon. H. L. Cook, a leading Democrat of Cumberland, and Col. George L. Morton, Democratic nominee for the Legislature from New Hanover. It is to be greatly regretted that owing to a threatened attack of pneumonia, Solicitor Duffy will be unable to be present as he had arranged. In addition to those named there will be several local speakers and local as well as State and National issues will be discussed by the speakers.

Kneissel's Cornet Band will furnish the music and there will be other spectacular features of the meeting. The speeches will be in the open air and will be from stands erected at Fourth and Brunswick streets in the First ward and at the corner of Fifth and Castle streets in the Fifth ward. The speaking in the First ward will begin at 7:30 o'clock and in the Fifth ward at 8 o'clock. Mr. Godwin will speak at both places and the interim between his visits will be filled in by the other speakers. In the event of bad weather, the speaking will take place in the Court House.

All Democrats are urged to attend these meetings and hear the doctrine of Democracy preached by men who are capable of preaching it.

The executive committee is continuing its efforts to bring out a full vote on election day and individual Democrats are urged to give their financial as well as their moral support to the men in the lead. The finance committees named several days ago are making their rounds and it is hoped that they will meet with prompt and liberal responses.

WRECK OFF FRYING PAN.

An Associated Press dispatch last night from Charleston, S. C., says:

"Charleston, Nov. 1.—Capt. Wells of the schooner George E. Dudley, reports 25 miles southeast of Frying Pan lightship during the night came near running into a submerged wreck. The wreck is a danger to navigation and should be removed."

The United States revenue cutter Seminole will probably proceed to sea at once and destroy the derelict upon a report of the same to the commanding officer.

Hallowe'en Party To-night.

The Hallowe'en party under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. to-night promises to be a delightful affair indeed. Unique invitations to the party have been sent out and a large attendance is expected. The entire second floor of the building will be given over to the entertainment for which elaborate arrangements have been made. A cordial invitation to the public is extended for the evening.

THE JAIL A DISGRACE

Judge Purnell's Caustic Criticism of New Hanover Prison in the Federal Court

A SENSATION YESTERDAY

From All Accounts Worse Than "Black Hole of Calcutta," He Said Cumberland Institution Not Much Better.

In passing sentence upon several defendants in the Federal Court yesterday, Judge Purnell, presiding, took occasion to pay his respects to the New Hanover county jail, which, from reports that had reached him, he declared to be a disgrace to civilization, characterizing the local prison as worse than the "Black Hole of Calcutta." The utterance of His Honor in this respect caused a sensation in the court room which was intensified when he went on to say that the Cumberland jail was only a little better, the only advantage that it possessed being that once in a while a prisoner was able to get out of there.

The matter came up when the Judge was sentencing several defendants to short terms in prison for the ordinary offences of retailing without license. He said that the worst feature of the conditions in the New Hanover jail seemed to be the fare. He wouldn't give a prisoner unnecessary punishment by sentencing him to a term in the New Hanover jail and he regretted that it was necessary to confine some of them there while they were awaiting trial. The statements of His Honor are believed to have been based upon reports that reached him from time to time from Federal prisoners confined in the jail here, more recently from the six sailors who are held as witnesses in the case against Capt. McLean, of the British steamer Osceola. He said that the government paid for good, wholesome food for Federal prisoners and that they should receive it; that he had taken the matter up with the Attorney General of the United States and the persons responsible for the treatment of the prisoners would be punished if his influence would lend strength to a movement of that kind.

The excoriation of the jail by Judge Purnell was freely discussed on the streets during the afternoon and it came with much surprise in view of the fact that the recent grand jury from the State Superior Court made an inspection of the prison and reported officially that it was well kept and that the prisoners had no complaint to make of their treatment. Jailer Ed. Capps, when seen about the matter last night, said that he was surprised at the complaint for he thought that as far as the fare goes, the prisoners were getting enough for three men such as it is, plain ordinary prison fare.

Messrs. Leitner & Wilkins, the architects, have just been awarded the plans for remodelling and enlarging the jail out of the appropriation of $10,000 by the County Commissioners at the beginning of the new fiscal year for this purpose, and it is believed that when the work is completed the jail will be one of the best and most modernly equipped in the State. Shower baths will be put in according to the plans drawn and the system of heating will be changed from hot air to steam. The additional cells will be placed in an addition to the building in the rear.

THE WOMAN BURGLAR

Kate Fisher, Colored, Given Preliminary Trial and Committed to Jail Without Bond Yesterday Afternoon—An Extraordinary Case.

Kate Fisher, the notorious, who escaped a few nights ago from the County Home to which she had just been sentenced for a term of sixty days by the Mayor and who broke into the residence of Section Master A. T. Lamb, of the Atlantic Coast Line at Wrightsboro, was given preliminary trial before Justice Furlong at the farm yesterday afternoon on a charge of burglary. The evidence was all that could be possible and the woman was brought to the city and lodged in jail without bond to await trial at the next term of the Superior Court in January.

It will be recalled from an account of the burglary in these columns a few days ago, that the woman made her escape from the county institution on the night of the afternoon on which she was committed there. She went prowling around the country, and finding the cozy, little cottage of the section master, she thought it would be a pleasant place to spend the night. A window was raised and the woman crawled through. Mr. Lamb was awakened by his wife who told him that some was trying to break in. He jumped up and went into the hall and discovered the woman coming out of an unoccupied bed room with her shoes in her hand. Mr. Lamb laid hold of her and with the assistance of a colored man the woman burglar was carried to the home of Mr. Herbert Johnson, a magistrate of Cape Fear township. She was locked up in an out-house until the following morning when she was returned to the county home and a warrant was sworn for her for burglary. The prisoner being confined in a penal institution at the time, several days were required to ascertain the method of procedure in such cases, so that it was not until yesterday that the trial could be had.

A colored man employed on the road by Section Master Lamb was at the trial yesterday and testified that the woman had broken into his house before entering the house of Mr. Lamb. The woman admitted being in the house in the night time, but said that a white man had lifted her up to the window and put her in. She could not give particulars, however, and the evidence was abundantly sufficient to admit of probable cause.

The woman is one of the most notorious characters known to the police and has absolutely no regard for the law or respect for its officers. She has created a scene more than once while under arrest on the streets or while being tried in the police courts of the city. The case will be watched with interest as probably the first case of burglary ever tried in the county in which the defendant is a woman. The Fisher woman is an Albino and can hardly be told from white except by other characteristics.

RECORD IN OCTOBER

EXPORTS HEAVIEST MADE

The monthly stock report of cotton and naval stores was posted yesterday at the Chamber of Commerce. It shows receipts of 112,678 bales of cotton during the month of October against only 94,384 bales the same month last season, while the receipts since the first of September have been 146,922 bales against 162,132 up to a corresponding date in 1905. When it is considered that the crop this year is at least two weeks later than the year before, it will be seen that the port is well holding its own and that if the crop pans out, the receipts this year will be equal to or greater than last season.

The export record for October just passed has probably never before been equalled in the history of the port, the number of bales loaded into foreign ships and sent abroad having been 109,532 against 86,760 during October last year. The crop year exports since the first of September thus far have been 122,736 against 129,835 bales during a corresponding period last year. The local market yesterday was quoted at 10 1-8 cents on a basis of middling, which was an eighth higher than either Savannah or Charleston, competitive markets. The receipts just at present are not as heavy as on the same day last year, which is due largely, it is thought, to the depression of prices and the fact that labor in the cotton fields is entirely inadequate.

The receipts of naval stores for the past month show a falling off from the same month last year. The same is true of the crop year in all items except crude turpentine in which there is a gain. For the month the receipts were as follows: Spirits, 1,386; rosin, 7,359; tar, 1,577; crude turpentine, 2,194. Last year: Spirits, 2,012; rosin, 8,359; tar, 1,964; crude turpentine, 3,512. The receipts since the first of the new crop year were as follows: Spirits, 11,126; rosin, 58,402; tar, 10,160; crude turpentine, 23,751. Same period last year: Spirits, 13,285; rosin, 60,443; tar, 16,802; crude turpentine, 19,263. The prices of all naval stores are ruling about the same as last season.

The shipping report for October compares most favorably with that of last year. The monthly statement of Capt. Edgar D. Williams, harbor master, shows arrivals of 30 vessels of ninety tons and over, with a combined tonnage of 43,442. Of the number of vessels 15 were American and 15 foreign. The American shipping consisted of 11 steamers, one barge and three schooners, while all the foreign vessels were steamers for the cotton trade or in the fertilizer product importing here. The American steamers were of 12,512 tons; barge, 1,600 tons, and the schooners, 1,313 tons. The tonnage of the foreign vessels was 28,017.

MAY HAVE BEEN DROWNED.

Young Man From Laurinburg Mysteriously Disappeared.

Walter Fields, a young cotton mill operative from Laurinburg, N. C., and a son of the town policeman there has been missing since he came to the city Monday night to attend the Federal Court as a witness. He was under the influence of liquor Monday night and was refused admittance into a lodging house down about the market. He is said to have gone down on the wharf and laid down near the water front. It is believed that in rolling over, he tumbled into the river. Another theory is that he boarded one of the fishing steamers of the Cape Fear fisheries at Old Brunswick and that it was he who fell overboard and drowned from that boat Tuesday about 15 miles down the river.

The young man's father at Laurinburg, has been notified of his son's disappearance while friends in attendance upon Federal Court here are making every effort to find him.

Young Men Were Turned Loose.

The two young men jailed Monday by Judge Purnell, because they appeared in the United States court room in a drunken condition, while his charge was being delivered Tuesday, have been released from jail. They were not held for contempt of court.

WOMEN IN A CONCLAVE OF GHOULS.

Twice within the past ten days policemen in New York city have raided and broken up meetings of anarchists who were extolling Leon Czolgosz, the assassin of President McKinley, as a martyr. The very idea that any portion of humanity would sympathize with a heartless murderer and attempt to justify the useless and senseless assassination of the kindly and innocent McKinley—the most popular and beloved American President since 1860—is horrible to contemplate. It is indeed distressing that there is enough of such depraved and desperate wretches in any American city to meet boldly in such a despicable cause, but it is a matter of profound sorrow that in many Northern cities there are groups of such human hyenas—craven and conscienceless beings in the form of men and women. It is incredible that there should be such a low type of men in this country, but think of women who applaud murder and gloat over assassination! Such, however, is a fact, for more than half of an anarchist meeting broken up in New York Wednesday night was composed of women. Picture woman—of whom Lord Byron wrote "an angel's form hath fallen to thy share"—participating and reveling in a conclave of ghouls!

It is indeed sickening and shocking to read a dispatch sent from New York Wednesday night, giving an account of a meeting of anarchists that was raided and broken up by a large police force about 10 o'clock that night at the Manhattan Lyceum, 66 East Fourth street. The story goes on to say that the wildest kind of a riot followed when the police stormed the hall. Women screamed "Down with the police," and "Kill the oppressers."

When the men quailed the women themselves led a charge on the police that was hot while it lasted. Many of the officers were badly scrotched and punched.

Ten of the anarchists were arrested, among them Emma Goldman, who tackled a policeman, and was about to whip him when other officers rescued their battered fellow-raider.

The meeting was a continuation of one that the police broke up on Forsyth street a week ago. This meeting like that one, was called to discnss Czolgosz and praise him as a martyr. Julius Edelson hired the hall, called the meeting to order, and was the principal speaker.

Just as Edelson took the platform fifteen central-office men, under the lead of Detective Sergt. Braun, slipped into the hall and took places at various points. Roundsman Bock and several plainclothes men were near the door, and Capt. Shaw, with twenty-five men in uniform, marched up in front of the building to await developments.

Edelson spoke of Czolgotz and pictured the slayer of President McKinley as a martyr and the man that had been wronged. Sergt. Braun then decided that the new law enacted to cover criminal anarchy had been violated, and he called upon the police to arrest the speaker. The central-office men leaped to the platform and grabbed Edelson.

In an instant there was a great uproar. The women made the most noise. One of them cried out to the men: "Kill the police!" A mob surged toward the central-office men. Word had been passed to the street, and Capt. Shaw and the twenty-five men in uniform came up to the hall in a jiffy. The women, and they comprised nearly half of the audience, flew at the police, scratching and tearing at them, and at the same time shouting that the police should be killed.

The greatest trouble was made by Lena Sweet, twenty-five years old, a Russian. She attacked every officer that came near her. Finally she centered her activity on Officer Morris Schwartz, and he was a sorry looking sight when other officers dragged the frantic women away to the street.

Emma Goldman, was arrested by an officer who recognized her. She made quite a struggle, but was hustled down the stairs and to the station. Edelson was hurried out of the hall as was also Lena Sweet. Then the police, under Capt. Shaw forced all hands down the street. There were repeated attempts to fight back, and eight of these offenders were corraled and taken to the station in a patrol wagon. Of the eight, four were young women.

One of those arrested gave her name as Annie Pastor, of 99 St. Marks place. Someone started a story that she was related to Mrs. J. G. Phelps Stokes, but this was denied. When taken to the station house, Emma Goldman described herself as a publisher; said she was 38 years old, and single.

Edelson is the cause of all the trouble, according to the police. He was arrested for being concerned in the affair of last week, and was out on $1,000 bail.

That is the way the story ran. How thankful we are that no such scenes can be witnessed in any Southern city. Our cities may be large enough after a while to harbor anarchists, but in the present proportions of our Southern municipalities we would shudder to think of what would become of a bunch of people caught redhanded like those in New York Wednesday night.

—While the father and brothers of the misguided wretch who assassinated President McKinley are represented as mourning over the disgrace he brought upon the family, still living in Cleveland, O., other misguided wretches of that city were yesterday celebrating the day made infamous by his act. —The man who is so violently opposed to Chinese labor on the Panama Canal, where white men cannot and will not work, does not show to very good advantage as the employer of Chinese labor where its employment means depriving white laborers of the opportunity to work. More over, the work for which these Chinamen are employed, the picking of the orange crop, is work which could be much better done by the white girls who are employed on the neighboring estates.—Utica Observer (Dem.)

—The fact is, that betting odds are based on "previous performances," and they never take in view the possibility of a political revolution. Out of six successive Presidential elections, the betting odds were right just three times, and all the odds were laid on the basis of the last success. That makes it easy to estimate the value of betting odds as election pointers, which is that they are just as valuable as Tom, Dick or Harry's, or the opinion of any man, woman or child you may meet. It is possible to guess only two ways about an election result, and anybody can do that just as successfully as the "wise guys" who lay the bettings odds—Saratoga Sun (Dem.)

A Year of Blood.

The year 1903 will long be remembered in the home of F. N. Tacket, of Alliance, Ky., as a year of blood; which flowed so copiously from Mr. Tacket's lungs that death seemed very near. He writes: "Severe bleeding from the lungs and a frightful cough had brought me at death's door, when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, with the astounding result that after taking four bottles I was completely restored and as time has proven permanently cured." Guaranteed for Sore Lungs, Coughs and Colds, at R. R. Bellamy's drug store. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

JEALOUS WIFE USES DISGUISE

(Washington Post.)

When she saw that her husband had really gone to his lodge, as he had told her he intended doing, Mrs. Walters started home, light of heart over the dscovery that her fears were groundless, but trembling in apprehension that her disguise would be penetrated. And a poor disguise it was. The man's clothing hung in folds from her spare frame; her feet were lost from sight beneath the legs of the trousers, and the big black mustache presented a weird contrast with the white skin. Small wonder that Policeman F. M. McPherson, while patrolling his beat on Ninth street northwest, stopped the woman when she attempted to pass him.

"I was wrong," she sobbed. "I ought to have known better, bu—t I—I—was so jealous. And I don't care if you send me to jail for a year, as long as I know my husband was not deceiving me. I am the happiest woman in Washington to-night."

The First precinct authorities lost no timue in communicating with the woman'n relatives. A nephew soon arrived with more suitable apparel, and the two left the station arm-in-arm. The charge of appearing in man's clothing will not be pressed against Mrs. Walters, and so far as the police are concerned, the incident is closed. What occurred in the home when the unsuspecting husband returned from the lodge and heard his wife's confession, is also something in which the police profess no interest.

—The State has chartered the Carolina Engineering Company of Burlington, to do general engineering, surveying, construction of roads and bridges, steel construction, capital stock $125,000, J. W. Cates and others stockholders.

—Gov. Glenn has made requisition on the Governor of Virginia for George Long, a desperate negro, who escaped from the roads in Rockingham county, where he was serving a term for assault. He was captured at Danville, Va. He is badly wanted for burglary in Rockingham county.

—A dispatch from Raleigh on Wednesday says the fire which began in 1,000 bales of cotton on the platform of the Southern Railway here last Friday afternoon continues and is said to already have done $8,000 worth of damage, the total value of the 238 bales which were on fire being about $13,000. The cotton belongs to the railway as the latter had given a bill of lading for it, to Col. Charles E. Johnson of Raleigh, but of course the cotton is insured. A cotton fire is one of the worst to put out, but salt water seems to be the best thing to use under ordinary circumstances. The high wind which almost constantly prevails fanned the fire in this cotton, which was particularly exposed.

—Winston-Salem, Oct. 31.—The new and handsome Forsyth county home was formally opened to its regular inmates to-day. There are about 35 aged and infirm, who are to enjoy handsome quarters and some of them were set to work on Monday cleaning the windows and woodwork. They are like a lot of children filled with delight at going into a new home. To them it was as if the home was really their own property. The county commissioners or Forsyth are receiving congratulations upon their accomplishments. As a public building it is something to be proud of. It is more than a county home, for its hospital connection is an advantage few such institutions possess.

—Raleigh correspondence Charlotte Observer, October 31.—The colored people came in large numbers to-day to attend the State Fair which was formally opened, there being very creditable parade headed by the Charlotte Cornet Band in new uniform in the naval style, there being in line the marshals, the officers of the fair association and some guests, including ex-Congressman Henry P. Chetham. There were also the colored firemen and representatives of other organizations. The colored firemen here have always been very efficient and much liked. They have one of the finest hose wagons in the State and a pair of dashing horses and are immensely proud of the equipment.

—Elizabethtown correspondence, Clarkton Express: It was the pleasure of your correspondent to be with the county candidates on the east side of the river last week. At French's Creek there was a large crowd. Hon. N. A. Sinclair was at that point and remained with the candidates throughout the week, and spoke at every appointment. Mr. Sinclair is a clear logical speaker, and goes fully into the record of the radical party, and exposes the rottenness and inconsistencies of that party, and cooly tears the mask from the declaration of the leaders and shows up their hypocricies. We all knew that Mr. Sinclair was a good speaker, yet he surprised us by his clear cut, logic and history of the two parties. Hon. H. L. Godwin joined us at Lake Creek and spoke at all the appointments throughout the week. Mr. Godwin makes a good strong speech. The crowds were very good everywhere, the one at White Oak on Saturday being very large. The conditions in the various townships are very good indeed and we look for an increased majority at every precinct in the county.

—Asheville, Oct. 31.: Another suit for damages against the South & Western Railroad Company and the Carolina Company as a result of alleged peonage practices on the company works between Spruce Pine and Marion, was docketed in Superior Court this morning by attorneys for Wilson Dougherty, a negro, formerly in the employ of the S. & W. The complaint will allege that Dougherty was employed as a member of one of the construction gangs; that he desired to quit work and leave the company's employ and as a consequence was arrested and placed in jail. It will be alleged that Dougherty was kept in jail for a week or 10 days without being told what he was under arrest for and that when he had finally secured an attorney to investigate the matter the jail doors were thrown open and he was informed that he might go. He did go—straight to his attorney and after an investigation a civil suit for damages was decided upon. The suit against the South & Western instituted this morning on account of the alleged peonage is the fifth action that has been started against the company during the past few months—all on account of peonage practices.

ROCK CLIFF LITHIA SPRINGS WATER.

READ WHAT ONE OF THE MOST NOTED CITIZENS OF SOUTH CAROLINA HAS TO SAY OF THE FAMOUS ROCK CLIFF SPRINGS WATER.

Spartanburg, S. C., July 24.

To Rock Cliff Lithia Springs Co.:

Gentlemen:—This will certify that I was severely afflicted with a serious case of erysipelas, that confined me to my bed for about six months or more, with daily attendance of my physician, and which eventually settled in my left leg and became so severe that a consultation of three physicians was held and the decision reached that the lower part of my leg would have to be amputated to prevent the disease extending to the upper part of my leg and body. I declined the operation and was advised to try Rock Cliff Lithia Springs Water. I engaged board near the spring and was advised to bathe my leg in the water, at the same time drinking freely.

This application soon soothed the pain, and for the first time in months previous I slept for about two hours. After a week's treatment, without any medicine or physician's help, I walked to the spring on crutches. I continued the treatment daily, and within two weeks was able to walk to the spring without crutches and in four weeks was able to walk home, a distance of 1½ miles, and resume my official business.

I was permanently cured by the use of the water, and take great pleasure in giving you this testimonial to the efficiency of the Rock Cliff Springs Water in the treatment of erysipelas.

LOVE AND SOCIALISM.

"The One Woman," a play of four acts by Thomas Dixon, Jr., suggested by his novel of the same name, unfolds a stirring tale of love and Socialism. Unlike the book, Frank Gordon is a college professor instead of a minister, and Ruth Spottswood is unmarried until united to the man she loves. One of the most important roles in the play is Kate Ransom, a Socialist leader delegated by the European Congress to bear their message to the United States. Frank Gordon, who has lost his professorship in the University for his radical views, has gone to the Klondike and discovered some rich gold mines which he dedicates to the Brotherhood of Man. Kate Ransom and her accomplice, Duke Dawson, plan to obtain through trickery, the deeds to these mines, and the many stirring situations and dramatic climaxes during the action of the play will assuredly hold the audience spell-bound.

The scenery showing the frozen Klondike is most realistic and has been pronounced by people who have visited these parts as the most perfect stage settings in the history of the theatre.

"The One Woman" is bound to stir up more arguments than Thomas Dixon's former success, "The Clansman," as it will appeal to everyone North and South, East and West alike.

"The One Woman" will be offered at the Academy at matinee and night to-morrow. Seats for both performances are now on sale.

"I have heard Miss McClure play after several years absence and find her playing as well as her musical intelligence very much developed. She has had at the same time much experience and success in teaching, and I have no doubt that she will fill in the best way any position she desires."

Miss Sarah Peck Hines, who is to take part in the piano recital of Miss McClure, is a finely trained and talented elocutionist and has many friends in Wilmington, who will be delighted to hear her.

HIS WEDDING JOURNEY

(Original.)

Mr. Quivey was about to be married. His fiancee living in a city 300 miles away, he had arranged to start the day before the wedding, to be met by the bridal party at the station and go from there to the church. This was an unusual proceeding, but it was the best Mr. Quivey could do under the circumstances. His business engagements and the departure and arrival of trains rendered any other arrangement impracticable.

Mr. Quivey took a train at 11 p. m. due to arrive at his destination at 11 a. m. Dreading the hours between daylight and his expected arrival, alone on a train and about to make the most important step in his life, he told the porter of the sleeper to let him sleep as long as he possibly could. He would even then have plenty of time to get into his wedding clothes, which he carried in a suit case, and be ready to meet the party at the station.

The porter let him sleep. Indeed, Mr. Quivey, mistaking the hour, lay in his berth, trying to get another nap, till 10 o'clock. Then the porter stuck his head between the curtains and in an agitated voice said:

"It's time to raise, sah."

"What o'clock is it?"

"Ten, sah."

"Good gracious!" And Mr. Quivey sprang out.

"Somepen's happened, sah," said the porter.

"What?" Mr. Quivey looked up in terror. He was in a state of mind to consider even the loss of his gloves a calamity.

"Heavens! It's the only pair I have with me."

"He got out an hou' ago and lef' notten but a pa'r o' wo'n out shoes too little fo' anybody but a boy."

Quivey turned pale. "How about the other cars?" he asked.

"Way passengers don't have extry pa'r shoes."

Mr. Quivey looked at his watch. It was 10:15. "Are we on time?" he nsked, hoping they were not.

"Yes, sah."

We are accustomed to consider highway robbery a very wicked thing. But there are temptations that are irresistible, and even a gentleman of respectability under distressing circumstances may be tempted beyond his sense of honesty or fear of the law. One passenger still lay in his berth, a pair of well shined shoes waiting for him beside it, about the size Mr. Quivey required. They were such respectable looking shoes that he despaired of getting them honestly for money. The only way was to steal them, and once on his feet Mr. Quivey felt capable, under the circumstances, of tying them on by strings of lies. If lies would not avail, was not possession nine-tenths of the law?

Mr. Quivey stealthily approached the shoes, which every moment looked more precious, and was about to grasp them when the car lurched and his hand went under the pillow of the sleeping owner. Suddenly he though there must have been a collision, for he saw innumerable stars. There had been a collision. The fist of the passenger had come in contact with his left eye, and a rainbow eye, not so brilliant, it is true, as his stockings, was sure to be the result. The passenger at the same time cried lustily:

"Thief! Hey! Porter! Conductor!"

The shouting awakened the remaining passengers, who stuck their heads out between the curtains while the man who owned the shoes called on the porter to go for the conductor of the train and request him to telegraph the police to be ready to arrest Mr. Quivey on arrival, averring that the robber's hand was under his pillow and abo to grasp his watch when he saved by a well directed blow. The conductor came and, seeing that Mr. Quivey was a gentleman and in a miserable plight, declined to interfere. But unfortunately the train was obliged to stop at a way station for water, and the owner of the shoes, who was an ugly fellow, sent the telegram himself.

As the train approached the terminal Mr. Quivey, ignorant of the fact that he was to be arrested on arrival, bemoaned his fate at having to meet the wedding party in striped socks. He would have welcomed an arrest if it would have solved the difficulty. It happened that the police were looking for a notorious criminal, and they were quite sure the telegram indicated that they would find him on the train. In order that Mr. Quivey might not escape they jumped on as the train was rolling into the station and proceeded to take the unfortunate Quivey into custody.

The wedding party stood on the platform, the men in light trousers, silk hats and frock coats, each wearing a big boutonniere in the buttonhole. The bride and her attendant ladies were in day costume. Lining up before the sleeper, they waited the groom's coming. The men prepared to doff their hats, the women to shake their tiny lace handkerchiefs. Presently out came Mr. Quivey between two policemen, his left eye yellow and blue, both feet all colors.

There was a hush, then a laugh in which all but the bride joined. She, poor thing, wept.

WARM CAMPAIGN IN NEW YORK

SPEECHES BY WHOLESALE

Hearst Made Talks and Hughes—Predictions of Former's Defeat by 175,000 to 250,000—Hearst Confident.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New York, Nov. 1.—With the close of the day, the storm center of political action in this State was transferred from the up-State counties to the city of Greater New York, and from now until November 6, both Charles E. Hughes and W. R. Hearst will make their appeals to the voters of the metropolitan districts. The programmes arranged for them call for many speeches daily and their vigorous and almost unprecedented campaign will continue practically to the dawn of election day.

The comments of Richard Croker, former leader of Tammany Hall, upon the gubnernatorial campaign in New York and the speech of Secretary of State Root at Utica to-night, were the most interesting incidents of the day's politcal developments.

Mr. Croker, in an interview in Dublin, Ireland, took occasion to criticise severely the action of Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany, in bringing about the nomination of Mr. Hearst at Buffalo, and predicted that if Mr. Hearst "is elected and carries out his programme the effect would be to paralyze capital and thereby paralyze labor."

He characterized Charles F. Murphy's action at the Buffalo convention as an "astonishing and unprincipled performance," and asked if it "would not be better for Tammany to be defeated fighting for principle than to dishonor itself by outraging the principles of Jefferson."

Secretary Root at Utica tonight made the only speech he will make in the present campaign.

Greater New York was ablaze with political enthusiasm tonight. The Republican followers held more than a hundred meetings in as many different places, and W. R. Hearst spoke to sixteen different audiences between 6 o'clock and midnight in Manhattan and the Bronx. His chief address was made at Carnegie Hall to a crowded house. Subsequently he spoke at many places in Harlem and the Bronx, concluding his night's campaign at a Bowery theatre.

Estimates are being made by both parties as to the probable pluralities of their respective candidates. National Republican Committeeman W. L. Ward said at State headquarters today: "Mr. Hughes will be elected by a plurality of at least 175,000 in the whole State. I should not be at all surprised if his majority was more than 250,000. I am not talking by guess work, but as the result of a careful study of the reports from all sections of the State."

As the Democratic view of the probable outcome on November 6, Charles F. Murphy said today that he estimated Mr. Hearst's plurality in Greater New York at from 80,000 to 100,000. Asked as to the boroughs, Mr. Murphy said: "I don't know about all the boroughs, but I feel certain that New York and Kings counties will go strongly for Hearst."

Tammany will hold its last and largest rally on Saturday night.

No action has yet been taken by District Attorney Jerome on the complaint made by W. R. Hearst against the board of elections, charging mutilation and destruction of Independence League nominating petitions. After a preliminary examination of witnesses by an assistant of the district attorney today, Mr. Jerome said:

"Evidence of larceny has been presented, but the name of the culprit has not been established."

He added that Magistrate Whitman will hear depositions and issue summons and for the board of elections in "John Doe" proceedings.

There's no use getting mad if that for sale sign you stuck on the front of your vacant house has not brought you a tenant or purchaser. Your sign has been read and reread by practically the same people, who pass by it every day and who are too intent on other things to stop and look over the property. Now, if you would advertise in the Business Locals of the Morning Star it would come before the eyes of all the people looking for real estate. This is because they are accustomed to have the Morning Star tell them what property in Wilmington may be had.

Got 3,000 Pounds Flour—Sioux Chief Urges Peace.

Sheridan, Wyo., Nov. 1.—A band of one hundred Ute Indians, it is reported, today captured a wagon loaded with 3,000 pounds of flour and supplies bound from Arvada to the Tenth and the Sixth Cavalry. The driver was held at rifle point while the red skins sacked the entire load and carried it away, allowing the driver to proceed with the empty wagon.

Troops camped at the mouth of Buffalo creek are on short rations and more food has been ordered from Little Powder river 30 miles from the troops. Most of the Utes are still camped on Bear Creek, near Birney. Soldiers north of Sheridan have seen no trace of the Cheyennes.

The Utes evidently have split into two bands. Telephone reports say that one band is on Bear Creek, 20 miles southeast of Birney, and that the other band is camped along Hanging Woman Creek in the Powder Valley. Two officers and sixty troopers arrived from Birney today. They report that the main command from Fort Keough is at Ashland and has seen no Cheyennes. Colonel Augur today broke camp at Sherves ranch, forty miles north of Sheridan. He was expected to reach Birney early this afternoon. Captain Williams and signal corps left Sheridan this morning for Birney, taking wire to connect the field forces with the telephone from Birney to Sheridan.

Sioux City, Iowa, Nov. 1.—White Bull, a chief of the Sioux Indians, was in Sioux City today on his way to the camp of the renegade Utes in Wyoming to act as an emissary of peace. He said he was anxious to meet the leaders of the Utes that he might use his influence to dissuade them from fighting.

WOULD YOU EAT CORN HUSKS

to get at the corn? Of course you would not. Then why should you take the greasy oil of the cod's liver to get the valuable medicinal elements contained therein.

The oil or grease has no medicinal virtue, but it is the medicinal elements enveloped in the oil which represent all the tonic and curative properties of cod liver oil.

In Vinol you get all of the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but no oil. The oil is thrown away for the same reason you throw away the corn husks.

Our local druggist, Robert R. Bellamy, says: "Knowing the wonderful medicinal curative and body-building properties of Vinol, I wish every person in Wilmington who is overworked or run down, debilitated, every old person, every weak woman, every sufferer with chronic colds, bronchitis and incipient consumption would try Vinol on our offer to return money if it fails to benefit." Robert R. Bellamy, druggist.

Note—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Wilmington, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

In San Francisco last night Al Kaufman gave Sam Berger a severe beating for 10 rounds. When Berger was all but out his seconds threw up the sponge in the tenth round. Only once did Berger seem to have a chance. That was in the third round. At the opening of this round he dropped Kaufman with a right to the jaw. Kaufman stayed down nine seconds and Berger floored him again with a right to the jaw. After that Kaufman had it much his own way.

WOMEN FEATHER ONE OF THE SEX

Franklin, Pa., Oct. 30.—Four married women of the village of East Sandy, four miles from here today treated a woman neighbor to a coat of stove polish, molasses, and feathers. Their arrests followed, but upon pleading guilty, they were released on the payment of small fines.

The four women are respected members of the community. They are Mrs. Verda Lowry, Mrs. Bertha Brinkman, Mrs. Nellie Glaze and Mrs. Hilda Pherson. Their victim was Mrs. Hattie Lowry, a sister-in-law of Mrs. Verda Lowry.

According to the story of Mrs. Glaze, Mrs. Hattie Lowry has been acting in a manner that did not meet with their approval. The four women decided to take matters in their own hands. They called at the home of Mrs. Hattie Lowry and told her that they intended humiliating her before the community. Two of the women seized her, while the other pair daubed stove polish on her face until it was entirely covered. Then molasses was poured on her head, and a coat of feathers applied.

Thus disfigured the woman was marched out of the house and to a railroad camp, where two hundred men are employed. There was a complete suspension of work until the self-appointed vigilance committee took their victim away. At the outskirts of the town they tied the woman to a large box, where they left her. A man came along half an hour later and released the captive.

Mrs. Lowry came to Franklin and swore out warrants for the arrest of the women who had humiliated her. Sheriff McElhenny went to East Sandy and arrested all but Mrs. Pherson, who was not at home. When the three prisoners were arraigned before Alderman Henderson in Franklin they pleaded guilty. A sentence of a fine of $10 and costs was imposed, which the husbands of the women paid.

Mrs. Lowry, the victim, declares that the treatment was entirely uncalled for. She says she will continue to live at East Sandy.

—In Atlanta yesterday A. C. Clements, a young white man, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery in connection with the recent riots, and was fined $300 or six months in jail.

MRS LONGWORTH IN THE CAMPAIGN

Toledo, Ohio, Oct. 30.—"Just as a mark of the esteem in which we hold your distinguished father and yourself," was the remark of U. G. Denman, chairman of the Republican campaign committee, as he handed to Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth a bunch of American Beauty roses when she ascended the stage in Memorial Hall this evening, in company with her husband and other Republican campaigners. A few moments after the opening of the hall every available seat was taken, and hundreds were forced to stand outside the building.

Mrs. Longworth and her husband were guests of the Toledo Club, from which place they were driven directly to the hall. "I have my 'slinkers' on tonight," remarked Mrs. Longworth as she left the club. She then explained that her "slinkers" meant her street costume. "I used to wear white gloves and evening dresses, but I have learned my lesson. Since ribbons and laces were torn off my person, I have come down to a plain traveling suit, which enables me to mix with the crowds. I never had so much fun in my life," said Mrs. Longworth, in speaking of her campaign trip.

Longworth's speech brought great applause. His concluding words were: "If you approve of the administration of Theodore Roosevelt, send a Republican to Congress from this district. This talk of Roosevelt Democrats is pure, unadulterated rot. A vote for McClellan means a vote for Roosevelt. If you want to really please Roosevelt, send him on the day after election word that you have elected McClellan by the biggest majority ever given in this district."

At the conclusion of his address an informal reception was held. The vast crowd pressed eagerly forward to shake hands with the President's daughter.

THE COTTON MARKET.

New York, Nov. 1.—The cotton market was less active during today's session and ruled irregular with the close steady at a decline. The sales for the day were estimated at 175,000 bales. The market opened steady at an advance of 1 to 5 points and worked up to a net gain of about 6 to 7 points with January selling at 10.23 and March at 10.41 or 16 points above the low level of yesterday on covering of shorts and buying for a turn on the better cables than expected, bullish private cables from Liverpool, the cold weather in the South and the smaller estimates for the day's receipts. There was no snap to the buying, however, and pressure increased on the advance. Selling was not so aggressive as that noted earlier in the week but the market gradually worked off to the low record of the previous day and in the late trading tallied only 3 or 4 points as a result of covering, with the close only a couple of points up from the bottom. Private cables from Liverpool reported buying by one of the leading American operators, offset by Egyptian selling, and stated that trade demand was a little more active.

Receipts at the ports today were 57,659 bales against 61,236 last week and 52,440 last year. For the week 465,000 bales against 467,415 last week and 350,260 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 7,041 against 9,643 last year and at Houston 16,415 bales against 13,051 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet 10 points decline; middling uplands 10.40; middling gulf, 10.65; sales 3,900 bales.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalps of these same men once became infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. ATLANTIC CITY BRIDGE HORROR

Evidence Points to the "Draw" as the Cause of the Terrible Accident

IT WAS LONG NEGLECTED

Rails Had to Be Hammered Into Position to Permit Trains to Go Over—Fatal Defect Made Evident.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 1.—The inquest into the Thoroughfare disaster of Sunday was begun today by Coroner Gaskill and after the examination of several witnesses an adjournment was taken until Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The sudden termination came as a surprise, but it was stated later that this step was taken for the purpose of summoning additional witnesses and to also give the experts who are to testify an opportunity to prepare maps and other necessary papers. None of the officials of the railroad company was called today. The most important testimony thus far adduced was that of Bridge Tender Stewart, and Mrs. Elizabeth Driscoll. The former testified that the grooves in the rails over the draw did not always connect, this being the case in hot weather and it was then necessary to knock them into place. Mrs. Driscoll said that the train was running at a high speed when it struck the trestle.

Coroner Gaskill charged the jury to discover the cause of the accident whether by the act of God or man.

The first witness called, W. Breimen, station agent, testified that the speed of the train over the bridge should not have been over 25 miles an hour.

James Curtis, the conductor of the wrecked train, testified that there was no delay and that the train reached Pleasantville one minute ahead of time. He said the first he knew of the wreck was a sudden bump and the train dashed into the Thoroughfare. He denied that he had been warned before leaving Camden that anything was wrong with the rear car. Conductor Curtis said there were 70 passengers on the train when it left Camden. They picked up five or six at New Field.

Commission Merchant Charles M. Kessler, whose yacht, the Sinbad, required the draw to open just prior to the accident, said he had no quarrel with Bridge Tender Stewart about refusing to open the draw.

John E. Kelly, of Chester, Pa., said he was in the front car just back of the motorman.

When the train struck the draw the front right wheels jumped several inches and threw him off the the seat. He broke the glass in a window and got out. He said the air brakes were applied as soon as the jolt came.

Mrs. Elizabeth Driscoll, of Atlantic City, who was on the wharf, said the train was going very fast, much faster than she had ever seen them run, and she had watched them many times.

Daniel Stewart, the aged bridge tender, testified as to letting the yacht Sinbad through draw. As the yacht had passed he placed the red flags, or danger signals, He said the towerman re-locked the bridge and then he (Stewart) went to the centre and re-locked the rails, raising them about an inch and a half above the other rails. He said that the rails were down and fast and he gave the signal "All is right" and the towerman pulled the lever. The only trouble he has had with the rails, he said, was in extremely hot weather when they would leave the groove at the connection. If this happened he would hit the rail a blow with a hammer. He reported this to the company and was told to saw off the section that projected. On Sunday he opened the bridge twice. He ran out to assist in rescue but could do nothing. The train was going pretty fast and he did not notice that it slacked up for the bridge. He noticed the electric flash prior to the accident. Stewart admitted that one rail could lock and the other stick up. The rail that he sawed out was on the northbound track and the accident on the south. He said he was 65 years old and had worked for the Pennsylvania Company for the past 25 years. He declared that he locked the bridge about 15 minutes before the train arrived. Assistant Tender Bussi corroborated Stewart.

Tower Tender John Spiker, said he unlocked the bridge for the Sinbad to pass and locked it again. It was about 2:05 P. M., when he opened the bridge and he closed it at 2:12. When the train struck the draw there was a bright flash and the car bounced only once during the Summer. Spiker said he could lock the draw with one end of the rail sticking up.

The inquest then adjourned until Monday morning.

Hearst Denounced By Secretary Root

By Wire to the Morning Star.

Utica, N. Y., Nov. 1.—Secretary of State Elihu Root joined with Charles E. Hughes, the Republican candidate for Governor of New York State here tonight in addressing a political mass meeting in the Majestic Theatre. The doors of the playhouse were closed shortly after 7 o'clock, so great was the crowd within and the streets were thronged thereafter with people seeking admission. A second meeting was held in Maennerchro Hall.

Twice during the delivery of the speech the Secretary was interrupted by persons in the audience and the great crowd in the theatre was in an uproar. One of these interruptions came when Secretary Root declared Hearst had been elected to Congress to serve the Aemircan people but had failed to do so. "That's a lie," shouted a man in the balcony. At once there was a roar of "Put him out," but Mr. Root held up his hand for silence and said: "Let him remain."

He then read a statement which he declared summarized Mr. Hearst's record in the national House of Representatives. The second interruption came when Secretary Root was referring to the assassination of President McKinley.

"McKinley's dead, why should you bring him into this," cried a man. Again there was tumult and several policemen started to eject the man.

Mr. Hughes repeated the pledges he has heretofore made as to the policy of his administration if elected Governor.

"I say to you with President Roosevelt's authority," said Mr. Root, "that he regards Mr. Hearst as wholly unfit to be Governor, as an insincere, self-seeking demagogue, who is trying to deceive the workingmen of New York by false statements and false promises; and I say to you, with authority that he considers that Mr. Hearst's election would be an injury to and a discredit alike to honest labor and honest capital and a serious injury to the work in which he engaged of enforcing just and equal laws against corporate wrong doing. President Roosevelt and Mr. Hearst stand as far as the poles asunder."

Mr. Root quoted from President Roosevelt's first message to Congress concerning the assassination of President McKinley and concluded with the statement that "what he though of Mr. Hearst then he thinks of Mr. Hearst now."

Characterizing Mr. Hearst as a violent and unworthy demagogue and a persistent office-seeker, Mr. Root declared that as a Congressman he had proved a worthless public servant; that while professing to favor an independent judiciary he had made a deal with Tammany leader Murphy for the nomination of a judiciary ticket in New York; that while inveighing against corporations his own corporate management shows the insincerity of his profession; that it is not calm and lawful redress of wrongs which he seeks but the turmoil of inflamed passions and the terrorism of revengeful force; that he is guided by selfish motives and that he is "not guiltless of McKinley's death."

"We are witnessing in the State of New York," said Mr. Root "one of those tests of popular government which often have come in the past and always will come in the future when a skilful demagogue attempts to get elected to office by exceeding all other men in the denunciation of real evils and promising to cure them. It cannot be doubted that many workingmen in this State are about to strengthen the enemies and weaken the friends of popular government all over the world by voting for Mr. Hearst, who is just the kind of a demagogue that I have described.

"What evidence has Mr. Hearst produced of his fitness for this office? Of his private life I shall not speak further than to say that from no community in this State does there come concerning him that testimony of lifelong neighbors and acquaintances, to his private virtues, the excellence of his morals and the correctness of his conduct which we should like to have concerning the man who is to be made Governor of our State.

"How stands Mr. Hearst's record as to political purity? Why, he comes to us covered all over with the marks of Tammany and Tammany's leader, Murphy, whom he himself has denounced as a scoundrel and a thief; he comes to us not answering to the call of the people of the State, not as the honest candidate of the Democratic party of the State, but nominated by his procurement, through as shameful a deal with the boss of Tammany as ever disgraced the political history of the State. Can hypocrisy go further than the willing beneficiary of Tammany Hall preaching political purity?

"How stands his record as a legislator? He has had opportunity to prove his capacity and sincerity in that field. Representatives are sent to Congress to attend to the business of the country. Mr. Hearst was sent to Congress to do that; he had an opportunity then to show how much sincerity there was in all the talk of his newspapers about reforms and better government.

"What did he do? Why, he did nothing. During the three years that he has been in Congress that body has been in session 467 days; there have been 185 recorded votes by yea and nay. He was present and voting at but 23 and present without voting at 2; his voice was heard in that Congress in those years but once, and that for ten minutes in a personal explanation regarding an article published in the New York American; he did not even contribute a motion to adjourn to the business of Congress.

"He is so rich that the $15,000 paid him for that neglected service may seem of no consequence, but no honest poor man would have thought it right to take it.

"It is seldom, indeed, that a man so young, whose public career has been so brief, so small a portion of whose life is known at all to the public, has furnshed such convincing proofs of his unfitness for office.

"The public knows the character of Mr. Hearst only by the newspapers he publishes, and, God forbid that we should set him up in the high station of Governor of New York, for the admiration and imitation of our children, the man whose character is reflected in the columns of the New York Journal and the New York American.

"But the worst of Mr. Hearst," said Mr. Root, "is that with his great wealth, with his great newspapers; with his army of paid agents; for his own selfish purposes, he has been day by day and year by year sowing the seeds of dissension and strife and hatred throughout our land; he would array labor against capital and capital against labor; poverity against wealth and wealth against poverity, with bitter and vindictive feelings; he would destroy among the great mass of our people that kindly and friendly spirit that consideration for the interests and rights of other, that brotherhood of citizenship which are essential to the peaceful conduct of free popular government; he would destroy that respect for law; that love of order; that confidence in our free institutions which are the basis at once of true freedom and true justice. The malignant falsehoods of those journals read by the immigrant in his new home where none can answer them, are making him hate the people who have welcomed him to liberty and prosperity to abundant employment, to ample wages, to education for his children, to independence for his manhood such as he has never known before. What public servant honored by the people's trust has he not assailed with violent and vulgar epithets? What branch of our free government has he not taught his readers to believe a corrupt agency of oppression?"

Mr. Root urged his auditors to return a majority of Republicans in the House of Representatives to work with President Roosevelt in the next Congress.

"Which evils have come with the enormous increase in corporate wealth in recent years are real and serious?" said he. "There have been many outrageous practices which ought to be stopped and many wrong doers who ought to be punished. Now this process of intelligent and eective redress of wrongs is going on; great and substantial progress has been made in it; laws are being reformed so as to meet the present evils; laws are being enforced with vigor and success; male factors are being punished according to law, and not against law; skill and wisdom efficiency and honest purpose never surpassed in the history of this or any other country have put their hands to the task and are pressing it forward with untiring energy.

"The most conspicuous and fit representative of this great and beneficient work in this State is Charles E. Hughes. The most conspicuous and fit representative of this same great and beneficient work in the Federal government is Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States. The honest poor man who has felt the crushing power of unfair wealth may take heart, for the most powerful personality of our generation from the vantage ground of the greatest office in our land, is leading the battle in his behalf; the honest rich man who fears that property may be endangered and prosperity checked may calm his fears; not a single principle is invoked in this warfare against corporate wrong doing that has not for centuries been familiar to the common law of England and America, but to exercise the same measure of control under the new conditions of our day, new agencies and new methods have had to be provided by the law and sanctioned by the courts. The structure of our prosperity will not be weakened; it will be made strong and enduring by removing with the care of the experience builder the rotten timbers of disobedience to law and disregard of morality. The first danger is lest the people should refuse to return a majority of Republicans in the House of Representatives; the second danger is lest in this greatest of States, the President's own State, the voters shall reject Mr. Hughes, who was the President's own choice for the nomination, and should elect to that great office an unworthy demagogue in the person of Mr. Hearst.

"The immediate and necesary effect of Mr. Hearst's election would be to deprive the President of moral support of the State of New York; it would be to strengthen the President's enemies and opponents and to weaken and embarrass him in the pursuit of his policy. It would inevitably lead to a reaction against all true reform and genuine redress of grievances."

DE CASTELLANE DIVORCE SUIT

HAD EXPECTED TO MAKE UP

(By Cable to The Morning Star.)

Paris, Nov. 1.—In spite of the reiterated statements made yesterday by Maitre Cruppi, in the opening address of the trial of the case of the Countess de Castellane (who was Anna Gould of New York) for divorce from her husband, Count Boni de Castellane, that there was not the faintest possibility of a reconciliation, it is by no means certain that the Count has completely abandoned hope of such an outcome. His entire conduct since the suit for divorce began would appear to be based upon the belief that his wife, who for ten years submitted to so many indgnities, must yield in the end. This theory will explain the Count's refusal of liberal offers of a life income and it is now disclosed that the Count never ceased writing love letters to his wife in which he begged for a reconciliation, and in which he anathematized the American lawyers under whose influence he charged she was acting.

Friends of Count Boni say he was dumbfounded to learn that the Countess had allowed the presentation yesterday of a detailed case. He was so confident that his wife would surrender that he did not prepare a line of defense, and it was only today that the documents which, under the French law, must be exchanged, were transferred to counsel for the opposition. These papers amount in the main to letters written to Count Boni by his wife and which show the contempt in which she held her husband. These letters probably will necessitate the production of the letters which provoked them.

It seems certain today that Count Boni's defense to the charge of infidelity will be "unproven," and that he consequently will demand an inquiry and the production of witnesses for the purpose of prolonging the case, his idea being to accomplish a reconciliation. This would open a road to extricate the Count from the money difficulties with which he is beset.

The calling of witnesses is what the attorneys for the Countess are particularly anxious to avoid, as so doing would drag in some the highest names of France. Maitre Cruppi did not utter one word yesterday to give a clue to the persons referred to as "Mme. A." "Mme. B.", "Mme. C." and "Mme D." except to those persons familiar with current gossip. If an inquiry can be avoided the decision probably will not be rendered before November 21.

Maitre Cruppi expects to speak for an hour and a half next Wednesday and the remainder of that session of the court will be given to Maitre Bonnet, of counsel for the Count. The court will then adjourn for a week in order to give the public prosecutor, who under the French law, represents the interests of the community and the state divorce cases, an opportunity to present his conclusions. After this there will be a delay of another week while the judges prepare their decision.
